

Payments Analytics Month: Restaurant Technology Landscape

This graphic details the complicated software landscape of the restaurant industry. It illustrates just a small portion of software providers that all compete for the same population of merchants, further highlighting the importance of targeted software partnerships for payment providers.

